TOWN OF ROXBURY ENDANGERED OR THREATENED SPECIES

The Roxbury Planning Commission now requires an applicant to review the location of their project in relation to the Natural Diversity Data Base maps, available in the Town Land Use Office as well as in the offices of the State DEP.
(<http://dep.state.ct.us>)

Please show the location of the project on the attached map which indicates the Federal Listed Species and Significant Natural Communities. This will be used in the initial review of the application by the Planning Commission for compliance with Section 4.00 – DESIGN STANDARDS of the Subdivision Regulations: 4.03 Protection of Natural Features.

The project can be certified as having no impact on any known occurrence of listed species or significant natural community if the project is not within the shaded areas; or overlapping a water body that has any shading; or upstream or downstream (by less than ½ mile) from a shaded area. If any part of the project is within these specific areas, the project may have a conflict with a species or natural community, and the applicant will be required to submit a completed Connecticut Natural Diversity Data Base Review Request Form to the DEP. The application to Planning will not be formally accepted for consideration until a response is received from the appropriate DEP division.

Further information on Endangered Species Mapping for Municipalities and the Connecticut Natural Diversity Data Base Review Request Form is available in the Planning Commission Office upon request.

If you are planning a project that may affect a listed species or significant natural community on your property, the DEP can review the project and, if appropriate, provide recommendations to minimize any potential impacts associated with the activity. Conflicts can often be avoided by minor modifications to a proposed project. It is important to remember that having a state listed species or significant natural community on your private land does not prohibit you from performing any legal activity on your property.
